Happy Feast of St Ignatius

Dear Officials, Staff (teaching and non-teaching, administrative, technical, supportive), Alumni, Students, Parents, and Well-Wishers of Loyola,

Greetings. Every year when we celebrate the feast of St Ignatius, Founder of the Jesuit Order (popularly known as the Jesuits), we find him inspiring us more and more (magis). He was God-conscious and was aware that we come from God and we would return to God, which is also the reflection and the teaching of the great theologian Thomas Aquinas: exitus et reditus - The coming forth and turning back as the double law of God's creation.

St Ignatius lived out this principle: He was seeking everything in God and found everything in God. In The Spiritual Exercises, he mentions, right at the beginning, that the creation is for us and we need to use them responsibly (Principle and Foundation - SpEx 23); and towards the end of the book, he is thrilled to see God working for each one of us in creation (Contemplation to attain Love - SpEx 236).

The 'cannonball experiences' he had were the turning points in his life. When his right knee was shattered by a cannonball while defending the Pamplona fort (20 May 1421), he turned from the world to God; sitting at the bank of the river Cardoner, he was transformed and he saw everything anew in God - This was a spiritual cannonball experience. And later, on his way to Rome at La Storta, he was assured of God being propitious to him in Rome (when he would meet the Pope) - This was an administrative cannonball experience, for this experience was the igniting moment for St Ignatius to found the Company of Jesus.

We too might have had many a cannonball experience that would have befallen us (though they might be hopeless in the beginning), God would transform them as His blessings. We believe that God can write straight even on crooked lines. Let us find God in the shocking Covid pandemic, in the frustrating lockdown, and in the threatening third wave. These may be storms in the tea cup, for God could calm down hurricanes and cyclones in our lives and bring in peace of mind and serenity of heart.

St Ignatius stands out as an example and our model. As we celebrate his feast, let us put on his hope and vision to seek God in everything and to find everything/everyone in God. Wish you all the happy feast of St Ignatius. The Jesuits at Loyola (Chennai) assure you of our prayers and continued walking with you in your lives and mission.

Happy feast of St Ignatius.

With kind regards,

Jesuits: Men with God's mission

For the Greater Glory of God" "Finding God in all things"

Dear, Rev Fr Rector, Rev Jesuit Fathers and Brothers residing in this campus, respected Heads of the Institutions, officials of all the units, invited guests and collaborators, wishing you all a happy feast day.

I pray that through the intercession of Saint Ignatius of Loyola, let us all be blessed.

It's a special and graceful day to all of us for we remember and celebrate this great Saint Ignatius, the founder of the Society of Jesus. He was a man, above all, of outstanding holiness that he dedicated his life for the greater glory of God and tried to see God in the entire creation. That is why the Catholic Church has listed him in the list of saints and honour him today.

He was in fact, a man of great vision and wisdom. Therefore, he had taken education as a weapon to eradicate darkness of ignorance from the lives of people. Ignatius impelled by the love of Jesus Founded the Society of Jesus 500 years ago with the missionary vigour and vitality "go, set the world on fire with God's love". The members of the society still continue their evangelizing mission all over the world with the same spirit and the enthusiasm of their founder, in spite of several challenges and hardships.

We acknowledge and appreciate the JESUITS for all their commendable contributions to the society, especially their uncompromising apostolic commitment to the marginalized such as Dalits, tribals, migrants, transgender, children and women.

An outstanding example in our day and country is Fr. Stan Swamy, a Jesuit missionary from Tamil Nadu who tirelessly laboured till the end, for the cause of the poor Dalits and tribals in Northern India. He has become a martyr of the marginalised.

Pope Francis, a Jesuit has given a new phase to the Catholic Church by his simple life style, synodal style of leadership, nearness to the poor, gentle and genuine approach to the people of other faiths, commitment to ecology and so on.

The intellectual contribution of the Society during their existence in the Church is vast and wide: in all fields of Arts and Science, Astronomy, Psychology, Spirituality, Theology, Philosophy and so on.

We can feel that the JESUIT education is integral and integrated with the development of the moral and intellectual qualities of leadership: integrity, human relations, understanding, hard work, organizational ability, cooperation and teamwork, and the power of expression in speech and writing.

JESUITS not only influence the young minds but also their collaborators by their innovative, exemplary and simple life style including, cultivating good values in their hearts and minds. Sharing the responsibility equally with the non-Jesuits is the one we could site here.

On this auspicious occasion we express our sincere gratitude from the depths of our hearts for the contributions and the significant work that the JESUITS do all over the world and in the Church.

As we celebrate the feast of Saint Ignatius of Loyola, let us feel privileged to be part of the Jesuit family. We shall collaborate and support them in their endeavours particularly in moulding the society through Education.

We pray that all our Jesuit priests and brothers are blessed and their Society is graced with many more members to continue the mission of God in today's world.

Wishing you all a happy feast!!
